Boston, Aug. 30.—The Reds downed the Doves 8 to 3 in the final game of the series yesterday, and as each had won one, there was a greater interest in the result. There was a faster pace between the teams in the game which was started at 2:15 o'clock, as the westerners had a certain train to catch. The visitors were willing to push the game along in anticipation of getting back to their own firesides today at a seasonable hour.

TO ASK WHY FLEET GOES TO PACIFIC.

Democrats Will Demand at New Congress That President Give Explanation.

Washington, Aug. 30.—It is said to be the intention of the Democratic members of Congress to introduce a resolution in the Senate or House as soon as the 60th Congress is organized, asking the reason for sending the battle-ship fleet to the Pacific. As it is not probable that the fleet will sail from Hampton Roads before Dec. 15, there will be ample time for a discussion of such a resolution. Republicans declare that if such a resolution is passed the President may decline to give any reason for his action. It is more likely, however, that the explanation will be offered that the ships are simply going to test their endurance and the practicability of getting ships over the Pacific side in the event that their presence should be demanded; also that the ships should be kept in motion anyway, and that it is as well to send them to the Pacific as anywhere else.

SEEK TO STOP EIGHTEEN ROADS ON NEW RATE.

Owners of Creameries Claim They Would Be Driven From Business.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 30.—A bill for an injunction was filed in the United States circuit court yesterday, seeking to restrain 18 roads from enforcing a new rate to take effect September 1. The complainants are owners of creameries in various parts of the United States, representing a capital of $30,000,000. They charge, in effect, that the new rate will drive them out of business. The bill was filed by Attorney Isaac Mayer, who is waiting any opportunity to present the matter to Judge Kohlsaat. Immediate action will be asked.

BRITONS GIVE LEEWAY ON ARBITRATION.

The Hague, Aug. 30.—The British proposition before the peace conference regarding obligatory arbitration has been so modified that it may lead to a general understanding on the subject. It leaves each nation free to land itself to submit to arbitration the cases, a list of which is furnished, which may arise between that nation and any other country or countries the signatory nation may select.

Lawson Fiddles His Way to Liberty.

"Let's Hear You Play," Says Judge; Then, "Get Out, You'll Drive Me Crazy."

New York, Aug. 30.—"Robbie" Lawson, an Irish fiddler who haunts West street, was arraigned before Magistrate Finn yesterday on a charge of intoxication, and promptly fiddled his way to liberty.

Magistrate Finn, who had heard of Lawson, said:

"So you can fiddle, can you? What's your legitimate employment?"

"Sure, I'm an Irish street musician, your worship."

"Well, let's hear you play, then."

Swinging the fiddle under his chin, Lawson rasped out "The Weaving of the Ground." Then he began another Irish tune. After the first bar or two, Magistrate Finn shoved his fingers in his ears and shouted:

"Get out of here—you'll drive me crazy."

LOOKS FOR HALT ON PRESIDENT'S PLANS.

Coming of Conservatives to Power Predicted by Col. M. J. O'Brien.

London, Aug. 30.—Col. Michael J. O'Brien, president of the Southern Express company, in an interview here yesterday said:

"Despite all the storm signs, I am sanguine that fair weather is due for America, and that very soon. The fairness of the American people can be always relied upon and when they fully realize that the president is simply rubbing it in, they will assert themselves and call a sharp halt to his extreme course. In my opinion this assertion of the people, which is beginning to manifest itself now, will become constantly stronger until conservatism regains its sway in the affairs of our nation."

"I may be overoptimistic, but somehow I feel that a reversion of the conservative elements of power will take place either before election or immediately following."

MOTERING A GIANT ELEPHANT NO CINCH

Operator of Freight Car Forced to Get Down on His Knees to Complete the Job.

New York, Aug. 29.—A big two-ton elephant which was being shipped west yesterday from Coney Island made it very interesting for a Brooklyn Rapid Transit express car crew who had undertaken to deliver the elephant on board a lighter at the foot of Fulton street, Brooklyn.

After some difficulty the elephant was put aboard a freight car, which had hardly left the freight yards before he started on a rampage, using his trunk to smash things right and left. The interior fittings were completely wrecked before the car reached its destination.

Once during the journey the beast put his trunk through a small window at the front end of the car and caught the motorman by the head. The motorman hightailed it off and thereafter operated the car on his knees.

Kelsey, the wife of Robert G. Kelsey, a real estate operator, was caught under the machine and was crushed to death. Elliott was badly hurt. Mrs. Kelsey was still alive when the machine was lifted from her body. She died in an ambulance shortly after on the way to the hospital.

Trinidad, Colo., Aug. 30.—Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks arrived here Wednesday afternoon to remain until yesterday afternoon, when he continued his journey to Sacramento, Cal., to attend the national irrigation congress. He is to stop at Grand Canon, Ariz., on the way.

Wednesday night Mr. Fairbanks addressed a large crowd. Previous to the mass meeting the vice-president declined to be interviewed on political matters, explaining that he was on his annual vacation.

FUN, FILIPINO STYLE, STIRS PEOPLE OF PANAY.

Night Raiders Have Habit of "Ticking" Sleepers With Lance Points.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Military and civil authorities in the provinces of Antique, Island of Panay, Philippine Islands, having received reports from natives and foreigners of a gang of night raiders, the members of which prowl lanes through cracks in the floors of the houses and "tickle" people while they sleep. In a number of instances the "ticking" has been fatal, and, according to the advice received at the War Department, the residents of the province have been advised to stuff up the cracks in the floors or to sleep high.

The authorities are doing everything in their power to capture the gang.

SKULL WAS SMASHED

Robbers Fatally Injures Kansas City Merchant

WAS NATIVE OF VERMONT

Horace A. Woodman, 74, Is Fatally Injured in His Store in Kansas City—Safe Opened and Ransacked.

Kansas City, Aug. 30.—Horace A. Woodman, 74 years old, a wealthy furniture dealer, who formerly conducted a fancy goods store in Boston and lived in Allston, was fatally injured by a robber in his store on East Eighteenth street Wednesday night.

His skull was fractured by a blow from a blunt weapon and when found yesterday morning he was apparently asleep in a chair where the robber had placed him after going through the safe and ransacking the store.

Mr. Woodman was born in Vermont, but removed to Boston and opened a fancy goods store at 401 Washington street over half a century ago. Here he did a thriving business until 1878, when he sold out and came west, finally settling in this city.

While in Boston he lived on the corner of Gardner and Chester streets in Allston. He was a large owner of real estate both here and in Boston.

CHICAGO WANTS HETTY GREEN.

Assessors Wish to Question Her About Her Holdings.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Hetty Green of New York, who owns property in Chicago worth between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, may appear before the board of review early next week and submit to a questioning concerning her exact holdings in real estate and the reasons why her assessments should be reduced.

This plan was formed by the members of the board Wednesday night, the question of Mrs. Green's taxes on downtown property worth nearly $2,000,000 having come up.

The members of the board announced that they wished in this case to deal directly with the owner of the property instead of the agents. This decision was reached, it came to light, after the reading of several complaints against Mrs. Green's methods of keeping her property in condition.

"We have decided," said Chairman West, "that we would like to have Mrs. Green come before us personally. We have received protests against her assessment from her real estate agents, but we are not satisfied."

The other members of the board expressed the same sentiment. The board has no power to compel the attendance of anyone upon its sessions, and there is a possibility that Mrs. Green may ignore the request entirely. In that case there is a counter possibility that Mrs. Green may find the assessments on her other property in various parts of the city increased from 10 to 30 per cent.

PLENTY OF MONEY IN THE WEST, SAYS HILL

The Great Railroad Man Is Not Dismayed by the Low Condition of Wall Street.

New York, Aug. 30.—James J. Hill was here yesterday on one of his frequent and unannounced visits. The country at large, he thinks, will not recover from the present state of financial uncertainty until greater trust can be placed in the government's general policy toward corporations and the business world.

"It is not that there is not plenty of money in the country, not that there is not need of investment," said Mr. Hill. "The investors, however, cannot be induced to put out their money at the present time."

He is not dismayed, however, at the present low level in the stock market. Such a condition had been known before, he said.

HOLD DOCTOR FOR DOVER DEATH.

Stackpole Remanded to Jail Without Bail.

Dover, N. H., Aug. 30.—Dr. Harry H. Stackpole, a physician who was arrested Wednesday following the identification of the body of Miss Katherine Ryan, the Lowell young woman who died as the result of an alleged illegal operation, was brought into police court yesterday to answer to the charge of murder in the second degree. He waived the renouncing of the complaint, pleaded not guilty and was remanded to jail without bail to await a continued hearing on Thursday, Sept. 12. Dr. Stackpole was represented by counsel, and County Solicitor Dwight Hall appeared for the state.

Against the Removal of The Old Frigate Constitution.

MAKE ELECTRIC BILLS SMALL.

Great Invention of New York Lands in Tails of The Law.

New York, Aug. 30.—Here's a man who according to the police would have been a second Rockefeller in point of wealth in a short time. If his alleged scheme to save money on your gas-bill scheme had not been nipped by the gas and electric people, who were the ones affected.

The inventive genius of Herman Barth, a New York electrician, the electric company of that city charges that he made a machine which, attached to a gas or electric meter, makes the indicator go backward.

The plan is simple, say detectives who worked on the case, but the gas and electric people figure that if it had been allowed to get into general use they would have been owing Barth money, and might have been forced to give him their business. Several people are believed to be using the handy little contrivance.

The thing which every one has been looking for—to save your gas bills—is fully realized in this little iron box. Its only drawback is that one must take it off once or twice just to let a few cents worth of gas register on the meter about the time the collector comes around.

PRINCE LIKED ROOSEVELT.

Wilhelm Formed Strong Liking For Our Strenuous President.

New York, Aug. 30.—Having gone through a rather arduous round of official duties in New England and having discharged his official obligations by a visit to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, who has just been to visit New York, will spend the rest of the time here as informally as he can. He has visited Coney Island already, and will keep up his sight-seeing today.

The Prince was delighted with President Roosevelt, with whom he had luncheon, and he is quoted as having told a prominent fellow countryman that he was much surprised to find the chief executive a man of even greater vigor and enthusiasm than he had pictured him.

The President, the Prince said, amazed him by his familiarity with Swedish history and literature and his interest in Swedish affairs.

SECRETARY TAFT IN DENVER.

Walsh's country home, where breakfast was served. During the forenoon Secretary Taft made an inspection of Fort Logan, near Wolhurst, with a view to converting it into a brigade post. At noon a general reception was given Secretary Taft at the Republican club in this city, and later one hundred of the most prominent Colorado Republicans sat down to luncheon with the Secretary at the Brown Palace hotel. Secretary Taft made a public address at the Capitol grounds at 4:30 p. m.

A NOTED GERMAN LAUDS ROOSEVELT.

Compares Him to Washington, Says Even His Errors Do Him Honor.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—"Even his errors do honor in every case to his personality," writes Prof. Schiemann in an article on President Roosevelt. The professor placed the president in the same class as Washington, Jackson and Lincoln, while thinking that President Roosevelt probably influenced the American people more than the other presidents mentioned, "through his peculiarities of character, imagination, will power and practical policies."

Religiously the professor finds in President Roosevelt a spirit of Calvinism without intolerance, and says his services to the world in promoting peace fully entitled him to the Nobel prize.

A Novel Scheme in Managing Savings Banks.

This is what the Wilmington Times calls the policy of the Hyde Park Savings Bank's practice of investing all its funds in Vermont. It says:

A novel scheme in banking is that of the Lamoille County Savings Bank and Trust Company of Hyde Park, Vermont, in devoting its entire assets to the fostering of Vermont enterprises and developing Vermont industries. That the scheme is safe as well as novel, is proved by the fact that in the 18 years since its organization the bank has never lost a dollar on a poor note, no has it now, so far as is known, a single piece of poor or doubtful paper.

This Bank pays 4 per cent, compounded semi-annually on deposits of $100 or more.

HANG THREE IN CZAR PLOT

Court-Martial Convicts 12 of the Eighteen

ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRACY

Evidence Decidedly Weak—Drawings Declared to Be a Plan of Royal Palace Are Identified as Map of Sebastopol.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The court-martial which has been trying the 18 persons accused of plotting against Emperor Nicholas and the government last May has found three of them, Mikitenko, Simasky, alias "Purkin," and Naimoff, guilty of organizing a plot and sentenced them to death by hanging.

Four others were found guilty of organizing a plot to overthrow the existing form of government. Three were sentenced to eight years' imprisonment and one to four years' penal servitude.

Five were convicted of having "supported a conspiracy," and were condemned to banishment. Six persons, including M. Fedossieff, a lawyer, and his wife, were acquitted.

VATICAN IS ANXIOUS OVER ANNIVERSARY

The Socialists Plan Anti-Clerical Demonstrations September 20 Through-out Italy.

Rome, Aug. 30.—The pope has ordered the suspension of all the contemplated October pilgrimages, owing to the continuation of the anti-clerical campaign and outrages on priests in Italy.

The Vatican is anxious regarding the forthcoming festival on September 20, the date on which in 1870, the Italian troops, under General Cadorna, entered Rome.

The Socialists and anarchists have organized anti-clerical demonstrations throughout Italy for that day.

SAY IT WASN'T THAT HARRIMAN SAID FISH.

Muttered in Elevator After He Knocked Out Harahan at Director's Meeting of The Illinois Central.

New York, Aug. 30.—Railroad men yesterday were discussing the fistful school which has gained many followers of late in the administration of the great roads of the country and wondering who will be the next to "take the count" for questioning the policy of a brother official. The knock-out blow Sylvester Fish, deposed president of the Illinois Central, gave President James T. Harahan at the directors' meeting has aroused a deal of comment. Rate laws and rebates were lost sight of in discussing it.

It was only a few days ago that F. H. McGuigan resigned as president of the Great Northern after a bitter quarrel at St. Paul with James J. Hill, which led to a lively interchange of blows. Though Hill is not a young man, he is muscular, and McGuigan was forcibly impressed with the railroad king's policy to the accompaniment of numerous uppers.

There are many husky railroad presidents in the country and one round bout at directors' meetings and conferences are expected to be the fashion from now on. The Fish-Harahan "go" was a thriller. Perhaps the winner will tackle Harriman next, say his friends.

Three Hurt in Wreck.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 30.—The fast "Pinto" freight, known as the "Meteor," which left St. Louis due to arrive here at noon, ran into an open switch near Tulsa, L. T., yesterday and was wrecked. A mail car and two passengers were seriously injured.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—It is expected that a formal announcement of the signature of the Anglo-Russian convention will soon be made by the two governments, but the exact terms of the agreement will not be published for the present.

LINCOLN'S DISPOSITION.

Ordinarily Cheerful, It Held a Strain of Deep Melancholy.

Hopeful and cheerful as he ordinarily seemed, there was in Mr. Lincoln's disposition a strain of deep melancholy. This was not peculiar to him alone, for the pioneers as a race were sadder rather than gay. Their lives had been passed for generations under the most trying physical conditions, near malaria infested streams and where they breathed the poison of decaying vegetation. Insufficient shelter, storms, the cold of winter, savage enemies and the cruel labor that killed off all but the hardiest of them had at the same time killed the happy-go-lucky gaiety of an easier form of life. They were thoughtful, watchful, wary; capable, indeed, of wild merriment, but it has been said that although a pioneer might laugh he could not easily be made to smile. Lincoln's mind was unusually sound and sane and normal. He had a cheerful, wholesome, sunny nature, yet he had inherited the strongest traits of the pioneers, and there was in him, moreover, much of the poet, with a poet's capacity for joy and pain. It is not strange that as he developed into manhood, especially when his deeper nature began to feel the stirrings of ambition and of love, that these seasons of depression and gloom came upon him with overwhelming force.—Helen Nicolay in St. Nicholas.

Tattooed Tongues.

In the Sandwich Islands widows have their departed husbands' names tattooed on their tongues.

FORAKER HITS BACK ON THE ELKINS BILL

Not Instrumental in Having Imprisonment Clause Eliminated, He Says

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 30.—Senator Foraker has issued a statement in answer to attacks made on his record on the Elkins bill, charging that he was instrumental in having the imprisonment clause eliminated. The statement is in part as follows:

"What a Cincinnati paper publishes from Mr. Foraker, its Washington correspondent, purporting to be the parliamentary record of the legislation now known as the Elkins bill, is an illustration of how easy it is for a man, no matter how well meaning he may be, to be mistaken. The Elkins bill, as to which Mr. Bacon, quoted by Mr. Foraker, testified was drawn by an attorney of the Pennsylvania railroad and introduced by Senator Elkins, was an entirely different bill from that which afterward became and is the Elkins law."

"Senator Elkins introduced two bills, the first of which was the one Mr. Foraker writes about, and that bill was killed in the committee. If the attorney for the Pennsylvania Railroad company drew any Elkins bill, it was that bill, which the committee favored and which became what is now known as the Elkins law."

"I do not know who prepared the original draft of the Elkins law. If my recollection is not at fault, I once heard Senator Knox say it did."

"The repeal of the imprisonment clause may have been agreeable to the railroad. But whether it was or not, so far as I can recall, neither any railroad man nor any representative of any railroad appeared before the committee to say so. We were governed in what we did in that respect wholly by what the interstate commerce commissioners, who are charged with the duty of enforcing the law, recommended."

NEW PROPOSAL IN THE FISHERY DISPUTE

Newfoundland Premier's Act Causes the Delay in the Plans for Arbitration.

London, Aug. 30.—It was expected that the terms of the agreement between Great Britain and the United States to submit the Newfoundland fisheries dispute to arbitration at The Hague would be made public yesterday, but a temporary delay has been caused by the unexpected action of the Newfoundland premier, Sir Robert Bond, who has made a new proposal regarding the conduct of the fisheries regulations, differing from the modus vivendi.

The American government, being most anxious to conciliate Premier Bond, consented to a postponement of the matter for a few days, in order to afford the British government an opportunity to discuss the new proposition with Sir Robert. An ultimate agreement on all points, however, seems to be assured.

GLASS BRIBERY CASE.

Trisco Jury to Get It Today or Tomorrow.
